We want to inform you that our company is perfectly conscious of the coming into effect of regulation (EC) REACH N°1907/2006 since June 1st, 2007 and of the various obligations related to this regulation.

We carried out in our company an inventory of our products and source of each one to define our statute with respect to REACH. Taking into consideration REACH, our company ACEDIS limited liability company is regarded as an importer of articles not relargants. Under these conditions, we are currently not subjected to the pre-recording, nor with the chemical substance recording contained in these articles. (1) and (2)

Moreover, the association of the European manufacturers of accumulators "EUROBAT", in its guide (2), position many industrialists of the accumulators like, users downstream, therefore, without obligation of recording, (2) but having L `obligation of availability and update of the cards of data of safety. We hold these cards of data of safety at your disposal.

We will continue nevertheless to be vigilant with a possible evolution of our statute compared to REACH, because our goal is to maintain our services to our customers and to provide you the products which you need. For this purpose, as an importer of article, we will narrowly cooperate with our suppliers in order to assure us that they will preregister and record the substances contained in the products which we use if it is necessary. We also intend to collect and process the data obtained by our suppliers and with you to inform some in good time.
